Farmers To Ask Harding For Freight Reduction

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—Farmers from all parts of the United States meeting here today under the auspices of the National Farmers' Union, decided to take their fight for a reduction in freight rates direct to President Harding.

This decision was reached after speeches from the farmers had conferred with members of the interstate commerce commission to urge lower rates. The delegates apparently were dissatisfied with the outcome of this conference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—Farmers from various sections of the country affiliated with the National Farmers' Union, gathered here today for a three days' conference to discuss various problems affecting their welfare. The meeting was called by Charles S. Barrett, president of the union, with a view to giving the farmers an opportunity to express their own views on domestic problems and pending or projected legislation.

Speakers on the conference program include Secretary Wallace, to discuss cooperative marketing; Senator Culliver, to present reasons why he thinks the farmers should get behind his coal legislation and housing bill; and Senators Capper, Lenroot and others.

In opening the conference, Mr. Barrett urged the creation of a joint congressional committee to inquire into the suggested remedial measures for the agricultural situation. Declaring agriculture in America is going rapidly toward the habit of "the least, the lame and the blind," Mr. Barrett asserted "what agriculture wants is an opportunity to help itself."

"Money and credit" have been denied farmers, despite the fact "that more money was available in 1920 than in any previous year," Mr. Barrett said, adding:

"It is a notorious fact also that agricultural organizations have not been afforded by the transportation systems of the country the facilities for corporations to distribute the products of the farm."

Mr. Barrett urged immediate enactment of "co-operative enabling laws" in a "generous spirit and without milking reservations."

"Hurdling that 'some interests of the country are attempting to nullify or destroy the usefulness of the federal trade commission by legislation or in other ways,' Mr. Barrett recommended selection of a farmers' committee to investigate the situation.

"I have asked congress," he said in conclusion, "to undertake the task of finding out what is wrong with agriculture and how wrongs when they are discovered, can be righted."

The program included addresses by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, and Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, and former Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire.

Wife And Mother At 14; Barred From Schools

CHICAGO, April 20.—Held too young in years to be a wife and mother, although she is actually both, and too old in experience to go back to school with other children, so she may progress far enough to go to work under Illinois statutes, the case of Mary Probusinski, aged 14, and her baby was presented to juvenile court officials today by Miss Gene Sullivan, assistant state's attorney.

In July, 1919, when Mary was 13 years old, she left her home here and went with Steve Danko, to Detroit, where they were married and their baby was born. Mary's parents took her away from her husband and brought her to Illinois, but found she could not work under the laws of the state, because although she was now 14 years old, the legal age, she had only reached the third grade in school. Another law barred her from school because of her having been a mother, so she was taken to a police detention home while her parents cared for the baby and under a special disposition, the mother was permitted to go home evenings to see her child. Mary wants to go back to Detroit, to her husband, but under the law she is too young to do so without her parents' consent.

Naval Warfare Will Include Armor-Piercing Shells GAS MASKS FOR WHOLE WARSHIPS WILL BE NEEDED Toxic Shells, Smoke Clouds, Invisible Fumes

WEST POINT, N. J., April 20.—A plan for the protection of battleships at sea against an enemy's poisonous fumes by the installation of a "gas mask" for a whole ship was outlined in an address to officers and students of the military academy here today by Professor W. Lee Lewis, head of the chemistry department of Northwestern University, and inventor of the deadly gas "Lewisite," perfected just as the world war closed.

"We face the possibility in the naval warfare of the future of armor-piercing, toxic and tear-shells, smoke screens, toxic-smoke clouds and invisible toxic fumes," said Professor Lewis. "We also may consider in this connection parallel defensive measures such as a gas mask for a whole battleship."

"Gas weapons are capable of a much finer adaptation to purpose than explosive weapons and the future will see worked out a great degree of scientific refinement in the development of gas weapons for all types of military operations."

"Future battles will not be the strong but to the superior intelligence. Warfare will become less a matter of brute strength and relative man power, and more and more a matter

Nosing 'Round Washington

BY ROBERT CORTES HOLLIDAY Author of "Walking-Stick Papers," "Broome Street Straws," Men and Books and Cities," etc.

We strolled along the driveway leading by the front entrance to the White House. The large looking policeman lazily sunning himself beside the portico.

to us as we passed near by.

A splendid looking army officer to gether with a cap and naval commander emerged with springy step from the White House door, both carrying an air of high elation. A suspicious car rolled up and halted beneath the portico roof projecting over the driveway. From it a lady leaned out extending a card. On pranced a gleaming negro flunky to receive it with bows of elaborate courtesies. As he turned to re-enter the White House it struck me that I did not believe I had ever seen a happier looking human being. Also, in his beautiful dark blue tail coat with bright silver buttons and delicately striped light waistcoat he brought to my mind (inconspicuously enough) the waiters at Keen's Chop House. The lady rolled on.

A limpsome looking character mounted to the entrance and sent in a card. It was evident in his bearing that he expected within a moment to stride through the doorway. A figure in a skirt coat emerged, bumpings being springs upon him and begin to pump his hand up and down with extraordinary verve, straining the white toward the doorway. Skirt coat (his hand continuing to be pumped) deferentially edged limpsome character outward toward descending steps.

It had been an exceedingly hot day for early spring. Traffic policemen had stood on their little platforms at the center of the street crossings under these mammoth parasols they

OHIO TAX CONGRESS IS PROPOSED IN MEASURE

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Representative Lipp, of Cincinnati offered a bill in the legislature today providing for the election by the people of an Ohio tax congress to solve the taxation problems of the state. His measure provides that the delegates be elected in the same manner as state representatives and that the same number be selected to meet in Columbus on the second Tuesday in January, 1922.

The proposed tax congress would have no authority to enact laws. Its province would be to study the taxation question and recommend laws to the general assembly for enactment, or constitutional amendments to the people for ratification.

Its purpose as specified by the bill is "to secure and present information to the general assembly on the subject of levying taxes or the raising of other public moneys and the expenditure thereof by the state or any subdivisions thereof."

The delegates would be elected at the November election this year. They would number 125, this being the total number of representation in the lower house of the assembly. They would receive no compensation, but would receive traveling and other expenses. An appropriation of $50,000 would be made to defray expenses of the congress.

Though the congress would meet in the hall of the house of representatives, it would be empowered to hold sessions in other cities also. It would be required to report its findings and recommendations not later than April 30, 1922. Representative Lipp said the idea is his own and that he has not yet conferred with Governor Davis and legislative leaders on the proposed plan.

It became known today that Governor Davis is to exert his influence in attempting to have the present assembly, which now appears to be deadlocked on the taxation question, work out some permanent solution before it adjourns. He conferred today with a number of legislative leaders on the question and told them that he considers "the solution of the taxation question to be a task, which, in importance, by far overshadows all others confronting the state government" and that the legislature should make every effort to have this problem satisfactorily settled before adjournment. The members of the assembly should remember that they are definitely pledged by the Republican platform to the enactment of a permanent equitable taxation system, and the people of Ohio look to them to fulfill that pledge without fail.

Liggett Helps Legion Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 20.—A white haired elderly man dressed in blue overalls yesterday entered a building here which is being converted into a club house for the American Legion, looked around curiously and then accosted the man in charge of the volunteer workers.

"I heard you were trying to fix up things for your opening party April 27," he said. "Can I help?"

"Sure, pitch in," was the answer. "The elderly man 'pitched in' with hammer, saw and broom. For several hours he worked in silence among the volunteers, until he was interrupted by the hall. 'Why, general, how long have you been here?'"

Former soldiers, sailors and marines looked wonderingly at the man in overalls. They recognized Major General Hunter Liggett, former field commander of the first American army overseas, and until his retirement several weeks ago commander of the ninth army corps area.

NOTED SENATORS ADMIT THEY ARE STUMPED BY THE EINSTEIN THEORY

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The National capital has been treated to a surprise. It always assumed that no matter what the subject or what the occurrence either in the realm of politics or science surely there was no limit to the comprehensions of United States Senators. But none other than John Sharp Williams, Democratic Senator from Mississippi, and Holse Penrose, Republican Senator from Pennsylvania, have publicly confessed that they do not understand the theory of relativity propounded by Professor Einstein. And what is even more shocking, they have gone so far as to suggest that they didn't believe anybody else either inside or outside of the Senate understood the thing either. This is how it happened:

Senator Williams is talking about the "steam roller" which the Republicans admit they are about to apply over the heads of their Democratic brethren in the matter of appointing committees in the Senate. Says Mr. Williams with his far famed eloquence:

"I understand how a great intellect can roll over 'common plebian minds.' ### Allied Leaders To Confer On German Penalties

PARIS, April 20.—British and French military leaders will confer at Hythe, England, next Sunday, with Lord Curzon and Lloyd George, it is said by newspapers here. Marshal Foch, General Weygand, Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson will be present, and Earl Curzon, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, will take part in the conversations, which, it is declared will relate to military penalties to be placed on Germany in case she refuses to make reparations payments due on May 1.

BERTIN, April 20.—While the German cabinet has not yet indicated the nature of its reply to the reparations commission's demand that the German gold reserve be transferred to some point in the occupied zone President

Havenslein, of the Reichsbank, and the financial writers summarily reject the proposition. They take the ground that the gold is not only the property of a private bank, but that its removal from Berlin under the conditions named would result in the collapse of German currency at home and abroad.

The experts assert that such a proceeding would work havoc with German economic interests and promptly result in an advance of all commodities to fabulous prices. President Hargenslein declares that serious consideration of the proposition by the cabinet would be a mere waste of time, and doubts whether any government could be found in Germany which would accede to the entente's demand.

WILL INSIST ON MANDATE OVER YAP ISLAND

TOKIO, April 20.—The cabinet yesterday decided there was no reason to alter Japan's policy on the Yap mandate question because of the recent American note on the subject, according to the Nichi Nichi today. The decision of the ministry will be reported Friday at an extraordinary meeting of the diplomatic advisory council, the newspaper adds.

The foreign office said it could neither confirm nor deny the foregoing report.

The government deemed it wise to make any statement or comment on the Yap question beyond what has been, or will be published by mutual understanding between the Japanese and American governments, foreign office officials declared.

Views between the United States and Japan were shown further apart Monday with the publication of the diplomatic correspondence between the two countries about the disputed Japanese mandate over the Ite's Island of Yap, a cable station in the Pacific Ocean about half way between the Philippines and Japan.

Japan's determination not to surrender the Island of Yap was stated in a series of five notes between the United States and Japan, made public Monday by the state department.

The correspondence reveals for the first time that not only has Japan defied the American protest against the mandate over Yap, but that it also has rejected summarily a proposal that even if Yap should be assigned under mandate to Japan, all other powers should have free access to the island for operation of cables.

The final Japanese note was regarded in some circles as almost sarcastic in tone.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—Senators and representatives from eleven far western states perfected an organization today with a view to finding a common ground upon which they can work to solve the question of Japanese immigration.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California was made chairman of the organization and directed to appoint an executive committee composed of one senator and one representative from each of the eleven states. California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado.

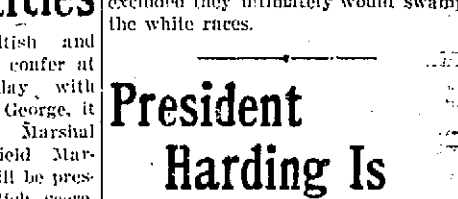

The organization of senators and representatives was formed at a conference called by the California delegation at which Senator Johnson and V. S. McClatchy, of Sacramento, representing the Japanese Exclusion League of California were the principal speakers. Mr. McClatchy declared that unless the Japanese were excluded they ultimately would swamp the white races.

EARNEST APPEAL FOR Y. W. C. A.

An earnest appeal is being made to the girls and women of Portsmouth Association in Portsmouth. The present membership campaign which has only a little more than a week to run will not be continued after the end of the month, although the membership is not up to the 2,000 mark. This 2,000 mark must be reached if the Y. W. is to remain in the Peerless city. So far close to 1,000 shares of interest or memberships have been sold. This means that 1,000 more girls and women will have to come to the aid of the Y.

This last week of the campaign in order to keep it in Portsmouth where it is badly needed. The Directors in charge of the campaign have not been able to see everybody and today were sending out a number of letters that are expected to reach many persons who have not yet been approached on the membership subject.

The Directors are more than pleased with the interest the physicians of the city are taking in the campaign. A number of physicians have sent in substantial checks showing their interest in the work.

Enroll as if the success of the Y. W. C. A. in Portsmouth depends on you. It does.

THE STROLLERS ARE COMING

Jealousy is the theme of Clyde Fitch's play, "The Girl With The Green Eyes," which will be presented by the Stroller Dramatic Organization of Ohio State University. The play deals with the life of a girl who inherits the weakness of character that causes so much suffering of mind to its owner, namely jealousy.

Jealousy, the life's role, is inflicted with a pair of green eyes through which she sees life in a distorted fashion. But jealousy is not her uppermost trait of character at all times. Affection, emotional affection, gives her nature a charm that draws into her life the love of a man whose character is as big and strong as hers is weak. She loves this man with all her heart and takes him as her husband, but not without warning him first of her failing. With all good intentions of overpowering this jealousy, she starts down life's road with a man she would die for, so strong is her love. Then the opportunity presents itself, her deep love proves only her broader pitfall, and she gives way to feelings that nearly wreck her life.

Here chance, however, casts its lot with the bridal couple and works the play to a happy ending.

Along with its tender moments, the production carries bits of wit and humor that lighten the effect and give a pleasing and well balanced trend of events. On the whole, the audience has no occasion to be disappointed in Clyde Fitch's jealousy play.

The Stroller cast has been chosen on a competitive basis, according to the custom of the club, and is for this reason believed to be an exceptional one. The play has been coached by Ray Lee Jackson, ex-Stroller and alumnus, and the club as a whole feels that this production will be well accepted wherever it is presented.

"The Girl With The Green Eyes" is brought here under the auspices of the Woman's City Club in an endeavor to finance educational lectures along civic lines which will be free to the public.

Competent critics in Columbus declare "The Girl With The Green Eyes" is the best production that The Strollers have put on in the twenty-eight years of their history.

There will be an accompaniment by musical instruments. Everybody is most cordially invited to come and be in readiness for a snappy program, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. at the Pond Run church. The good old-fashioned songs, which everyone knows, will be sung and Mrs. Chas. Walcott will give some humorous selections from Paul Lawrence Dunbar and James Whitcomb Riley. Major Winton will give a few minutes talk on Community Organization. After the program a demonstration of some forms of recreation will be given. Everybody who comes is assured a good time.

Submit New Tax Plan

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Submission by the legislature of a constitutional amendment providing for a modified form of classification of property for taxation was recommended to a house Republican caucus here this afternoon by a special sub-committee appointed to investigate taxation matters.

The special committee was composed of three members favoring the uniform rule of taxation and three members favoring the classification of property for taxation.

The committee proposed that all property be divided into two classes—tangible and intangible—with a tax rate of not less than five mills on the dollar on intangible property. No minimum rate was fixed for tangible property.

The caucus took the committee's report under advisement.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—Parlous of the various aspirants for internal revenue commissioner increased their efforts today as indications accumulated that the appointment would be made in the very near future.

The two men whose supporters were most active at the White House, were David H. Iddair, a lawyer and business man of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Millard F. West, of Lancaster, Ky., now serving as acting commissioner.

There were indications that either one of these two men or some other candidate brought into the race at the last minute as the dark horse would be appointed.

The Importance of Healthy Kidneys

In the removal of waste material from the body, the kidneys are called upon to perform a very important duty. The failure of these marvelous and delicate organs to properly do their work means retention in the system of poisonous matter. This poisons the system, and if permitted to remain results in severe backache, headache, torpid liver, constipation and eventually Bright's disease. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy, a combination of herbs and other healthful ingredients was discovered about 50 years ago, and its value in strengthening the kidneys and liver was at once appreciated. Today it stands as one of the standard remedies in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys and liver. Many persons suffer from diseases of the kidneys unknowingly. The use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy will invariably improve your health, and make you feel that life is really worth living.

Judge Must Decide Who Died First

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., April 20.

The effect of carbon dioxide upon a person in close proximity to the wall of a room as compared with its effect upon one nearer the center of the room, is being considered today by Judge J. M. Woods, of the circuit court. Upon the court's decision rests the title to an estate.

Some time ago George Sheig and his wife were found dead in a room of their home. They were asphyxiated by carbon dioxide from hard coal. Sheig's body, when found, was resting near a wall, while the woman's body was in the center of the room. Mrs. Sheig's beneficiary instituted the court proceedings in an effort to gain title to the estate, claiming that Sheig died before his wife. The case is against the "unknown heirs" of Sheig.

In presenting the argument for the beneficiary, counsel submitted a written opinion of L. J. Bush, of Lexington, Va., a chemist, in which it was held that carbon dioxide, emitted from a stove, rises to the ceiling and in cooling follows the walls when dropping by its natural weight to the floor. The chemist suggested that a person near the wall would be effected sooner than a person in the center of the room.

Safe blowers who have been giving their time to jobs in the bigger clubs turned from their usual path this morning when they visited the village of Waverly and blew the safe in the H. E. Downing drug store, the lost secured including $1000 in change, a $5000 Liberty Bond and about $400 in War Savings Stamps, along with some stock in the Downing drug store, candy, etc. The Liberty Bond and War Savings Stamps are registered and can be cashed by only Mr. Downing.

When the report of the explosion that wrecked the door of the safe shook the village and awakened sleep, citizens they hurried outside to see if there was a big fire or anything wrong but not being able to see anything they turned over and went back to sleep the cause of the explosion not being known until about seven o'clock this morning when H. E. Downing started to open his drug store, which is on the corner of Main and North streets.

The safe blowing was about 2:45 o'clock for it was that time by the clock when J. N. Huffman who lives across the street from the drug store was awakened by the explosion that blew the front door from its hinges. He looked out of his bedroom window but did not see any sign of fire or any thing unusual so went back to the warm covers of his bed and forgot it. George Wallford, lunchroom owner, who has his place on the corner across the street from the bank of Waverly, was up at 2:45 and heard the report of the explosion. His first thought was of the Bank of Waverly, but when he looked out and found it to be intact he dismissed the explosion from his mind.

Tools that were used in forcing the back door of the drug store were found later that the tools had been stolen from the Everett Bowman general repair shop several squares away from the pharmacy.

The safe blowers used nitro glycerine as soap used about the crack of the door was found on the safe by Mr. Rogers who was one of the most surprised individuals in Waverly when he discovered the robbery for he had not heard the explosion.

Bits of steel from the safe knocked bottles of medicine and cans of paint from the shelves and the stock was slightly damaged in this way.

The news of the robbery spread rapidly this morning and it did not take long for the greater part of the populace to assemble at the drug store to see what had happened.

News of the blowing was sent to the officers and Columbus and Portsmouth, the officers of these cities being asked to watch for suspicious looking persons who probably made their escape from the village by automobile.

600 Prisoners
In Ohio Pen
Are Poisoned

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Six hundred prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary were recovering today from a light attack of ptomaine poisoning, caused by the eating of canned parsnips at the noon meal yesterday.

As the men marched from the dining hall yesterday noon, several toppled over to the ground, and had to be rushed to the prison hospital for first aid treatment. During the afternoon and evening approximately 600 reported for medical treatment.

All but one or two of the prisoners had been released from the hospital this morning, according to prison officials, and the cases were not considered serious. An investigation of the parsnips was being made today. Prison officials said they had been purchased recently.

Shot To Death In Soft Drink Cafe

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Police and county authorities today rebuffed their efforts in an attempt to unearth some clue which might lead to the arrest of the person or persons who last night shot to death Sam Hild in his soft drink cafe, near the Irving park. He was alone at the time. Almost $100 was taken from the cash register.

Persons nearby who heard the three shots rushed to the cafe where Hild's body was found lying behind the bar. No one was seen to leave the building, according to the sheriff's report. More than $700, which Hild had on his person, was not disturbed.

Thompson at the regular meeting of the Portsmouth Retail Grocers' Association, it being held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms with 70 members present. Mr. Wiles then gave the following four ways in which the business man could best judge conditions. 1st, the press; 2nd, trade publications and magazines; 3rd, utterances of public speakers; 4th, inductive form of conclusion.

That religious revivals are still to be found in God's good plan for saving the world, has been proven. During the past three months more than 300 people in Oak Hill have professed conversion or reclamation. For many weeks the bulk of conversions were to be found among the elderly and middle-aged people. But the fire of conviction and the flame of consecration at last reached the young people of both sexes, and they rapidly exercised their new found joy and zeal in doing personal work among their friends and acquaintances. In the stores, in the homes, on the streets, for months, the prevailing topic has been religion and the revival has swept like a heavenly surging wave over our town, and has brought faith to many a doubting mind, hope into many a despondent breast and love into many cold hearts and selfish lives and homes. The time has truly come when in this old town men are saying to their fellowmen, "Know ye the Lord?"

On Wednesday, Jan. 12, Rev. Dibert started the meetings in the M. E. church. On Feb. 27, Rev. Thompson started his campaign in the U. B. church. On March 20, Rev. John C. Jones opened a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church, closing on Sunday April 17. More than three months of revivals, continuing nightly, the greatest in the history of Oak Hill.

TRIP 15 SWAMMED
Troop 2 of the Second Presbyterian church sprung a great surprise when they fairly swamped Troop 15 of the Christian church by the score of 16 to 5, in a locally cheered baseball game at York Park, yesterday afternoon.

W. Reutinger held Troop 15 in the hollow of his hand, fanning twelve batters in seven innings, setting a new record for the Midlet League. In the seventh he weakened and allowed three runs to score in the final inning, 16 to 5 in Troop 2's favor.

The lineup was: Troop 2—Clarence Reutinger, Captain; J. Buckley, ss; H. DeLoelle, 2b; Porter, rf; Cooper, lb; W. Reutinger, p; Godler, 3b; Hubbard, cf, and Mickelthwait, c.

Troop 15—Pigman, p; Spencer, 1b; Matthews, ss; Abrams, rf; Sprague, 2b; Martin, 3b; Brown, 1b; Ross, c, and Tracy, cf.

Troop 2 will next play Troop 3 of the First Presbyterian church on Monday, April 25. The teams have each won one and lost none, and it will be a hot battle.

Ironton Has Free "Street Dance"

IRONTON, April 20—One of the largest crowds ever assembled on Center street, gathered last night to partake of the hospitality of Center street business men who gave a free dance to celebrate the completion of the resurfacing of that street with asphalt by the Federal Asphalt Paving Company of Hamilton, Ohio.

Early in the evening the sidewalks were so badly congested that it was practically impossible for pedestrians to get from Third to Fourth, and the members of the police force had their hands full in an ineffectual attempt to maintain a roped off area in front of the Snake House for the dancers, after a big gathering of roller-skaters had been assigned to the Fourth street end of the street.

Mounted on a wagon platform in the middle of the street Byers' Orchestra furnished music for the dancing for several hours and hundreds of devotees of the art enjoyed the pleasure. The gathering was so plentifully democratic to suit everybody, both white and colored couples mingling in the mazes of the dance without friction during the evening.

At Ashland June 4

Coach F. R. McComb and Principal H. H. Eccles of the local high school have returned from Ashland where they attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Tri-State Field and Track Association. It was decided to hold the meet this year at Ashland on June 4. Representatives of the Ashland, Portsmouth, Ironton and Huntington high schools were present at the meeting and it was decided that Collettsburg, Colorado, Kenova, Scholastic, Wheelersburg, South Point, Gallipolis, South Webster and Mayville, would be tendered an invitation to participate in the meet.

Sale of tickets will be in charge of the Ashland management and fifty per cent of the proceeds of all tickets sold by other schools will go to the school which made the sales.

A motion was made and carried that Ashland furnish the referee for the meet, with each participating team sending two men to act as officials. It was moved and carried that each contestant be numbered.

The nearby cities of the tri-state section will be invited to join in the meet so as to further the reach of the athletics.

The representatives at Saturday's meeting were J. A. Anderson, Jr., of Ashland; A. E. Stoddard of Huntington; H. H. Eccles of Portsmouth; and W. C. Hall of Ironton High.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work and give quick, safe and lasting relief. Money back if it fails, says Worcester Bros.—Adv.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. P. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Gun Victim May Recover

Rome Erwin, colored, who was shot through the head at his home on the West Side Monday night, spent a good night at Hempstead hospital and Wednesday morning it was stated that his chances for recovery were bright, barring complications.

His wife, Mrs. Millie Erwin, is still held at the county jail in connection with the shooting and it is probable she will be required to meet a charge of shooting with intent to kill. She stoutly denies firing the shot and persistently clings to the story that Erwin shot himself during a scuffle between them over possession of the weapon after he had attacked her.

Gas Deposit Is Explained By

B. J. Crahan At C. of C. Meeting

Tuesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce

The Directors then authorized the Committee on Committees to appoint a committee on the gas proposition. As soon as the committee is organized the persons who have been asked to pay cash for contracts will be urged to come before the committee and make sworn statements as to their treatment at the hands of the gas company.

The committee's work will be to get the facts in the case before any steps are taken to secure a smaller deposit.

He explained that the deposit had been increased from $10 to $20 as the company had been losing large amounts on unpaid bills and said the law allowed the Gas Company to demand a deposit that would cover the month's bill and ten day period allowed for payment, or a forty day bill. Mr. Crahan said that any person who had paid a cash deposit and had become a free holder of property since putting up the deposit could call and get their deposit with six per cent interest. He also said that some persons had paid as much as $25 for a

BABY ATTACKED BY MAD DOG

James Odell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Odell of Rabbit Run near Friendship is suffering from several dog bites inflicted Saturday when the dog kept by the family attacked the child who is three years and five months old.

The child was playing in the front yard of the home and was not near the dog which suddenly turned and attacked the child who was bitten on the left arm, on a finger of the right hand, nose and over the left eye. The bites were through the skin and were deep enough to bring blood.

Dr. D. N. Hopkins was called and telegraphed to Columbus immediately for Pasteur treatments. The serum arrived Monday and two treatments were given Tuesday and two today. The child's condition grew alarming during the night. Today the Pasteur treatments seemed to be taking effect, the child appearing a little better. The condition of the child last night indicated the wounds inflicted were dangerous, it being thought that hydrophobia would develop during the night.

The dog was not killed immediately but was kept locked up until Tuesday for observation. According to the physician the canine acted like it was afflicted with rabies and Tuesday he killed the dog and had County Health Commissioner Dr. B. W. Crowe send the head to Columbus today for examination.

PRESBYTERIANS WIN BOTH GAMES

The Second Presbyterian boys and girls basketball team won a double header contest last night from the Highland boys and girls teams, the contest being staged in the high school gym.

The first game between the boys was hard fought, the Presbyterian boys winning out 10 to 0. This contest was not decided until the last blow of the referee's whistle. Moore was the star for Highland getting 2 field baskets. Whitworth was next getting three fouls out of five free throws.

Dougherty and Workman divided honors for the winners each getting two field goals.

The game between the girls was a one sided affair, the Presbyterians winning out 15 to 0. The pass work of Galford, Hughes and Workman completely mystified the Highland girls and they could get their hands on the ball for only a second at a time. Galford led the winners, getting 5 field baskets. Hughes and Dougherty divided two field goals.

The Second Presbyterian girls will play the New Boston high school girls in the local high school gym next Monday night.

The New Boston five recently won from the church girls by a close score.

Any team wishing a game with the Presbyterian girls should call 891.

The lineups and summary on the boys' game:

Highland: Hartssock, RF; Thornton, LF; Moore, C; G. Thornton, RG; Whitworth, LG.

Presbyterian: Rehniger, RF; Hennessey, LF; Dougherty, C; Jones, RG; Whitworth, LG.

Subs—Workman for Dougherty; Dougherty for Barber.

Field Goals—Hartssock 1, Moore 2, Dougherty 2, Workman 2, Barber 1.

Foul Goals—Whitworth 2.

Lineup and summary for the girls:

Presbyterian: Hughes, RF; Workman, LF; Thornton, C; Whitworth, RG; Baker, LG.

Subs—Dougherty for G. Thornton; Field Goals—Galford 5, Hughes 1, Thirkettle 1.

Foul Goals—Galford.

Paradox.

No word upon the lips of humanity would be more true today than the paradox "what I gave I have," for the creative force grows in proportion as it is generously expended and, with life itself, dwindles as it is eked out and repressed.

Husbands, Sweethearts Invited; You Bet They'll Be Present

The Loyal Daughters Bible Class of the First Christian Bible School will hold their regular monthly business and social session tomorrow, Thursday, evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Book, 1731 6th street. The hours are from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

Judging from reports of former meetings of the class and by the preparations being made for this one it is going to be a humdinger. For the first time this year the husbands and sweethearts of the girls and women that make up the class have been invited and of course, they must go or they will, a great many of them will be there.

The program committee, they are the ones who plan the good time after the meeting and before the eating, have made a special request that each member of the class bring a picture of herself. This picture must be the first one she ever had made. A baby picture is really what they want. And if the men folk have any "silly things" about the place they are also asked to bring 'em along. Just what is wanted with these mementos of other and earlier days is not stated in the request but it is intimated that it has something to do with the evening's entertainment.

It is said that the most dainty refreshments are served at the meetings of the Loyal Daughters' class but no man is able to testify to this fact. They will be, however, after tomorrow night's meeting. But we'll guarantee that every one will bear witness that he had a good time and enjoyed the refreshments and all.

CALVARY COMMANDERY DANCE TONIGHT

The dance to be given under the auspices of Calvary Commandery Knights Templar this Wednesday evening at the Jaegerman Academy will be a delightful affair. The opening with the Grand March by the Sir Knights in uniform with their ladies seated in their smart frocks, will indeed be a pretty sight. The prompt and hearty acceptances enabled the committee to make early and ample provision and for that reason can say if any Sir Knights unable to accept earlier now find they can attend the committee assures them welcome. If any Sir Knight recently knighted has not been provided with uniform he is expected just the same. A good time is in store for those attending.

Bible School Pupils Enjoy Treat

A rare combination of music and stories provided a delightful treat for the Bible School pupils of the First Presbyterian Church last evening. Mr. Foster Krake, the genial music director for the National Community Service, again demonstrated what a good leader can do with a big chorus, this time making use of juvenile voices. The young people started at full speed with the first song, and maintained their enthusiasm to the very last note of what proved to be the favorite of the evening, "Till We Meet Again." Of the secular songs, "Swanee River," and "The Long, Long Trail," were popular, and all enjoyed singing "I Walked With the King," "Smiles," and "Working Together." When the audience realized regretfully that the song period was over, they broke into a glorious burst of applause for Mr. Krake and Major Winton, which was sustained with such spontaneity and sincerity that the two gentlemen made it quite evident they felt well repaid for their effort. It is the plan of the school to continue the "Lick Sing," if possible, each night hereafter when moving pictures are shown.

A four-reel juvenile, "The Little Chevalier," followed, proving to be one of the most enjoyable moving picture entertainments given all winter. The photography was ideal, and the story well fitted to the romantic spirit of youth. Mr. Paul Claggett, who handled the machine, and Mrs. Grace Jones Cox, who was at the piano throughout the showing of the pictures, both came in for their share of appreciative applause.

First Rehearsal This Evening

The music for Portsmouth's "First Community Chorus Recital" arrived yesterday morning from New York, and practice will be begun in earnest this evening at 7:50 p. m. at All Saints' Parish House. As there will be but five rehearsals, it is evident that those who expect to be in the chorus must present themselves to night, or it will be too late, as far as the first recital is concerned.

With such an unprecedented showing of volunteer song leaders on Monday night, it might be thought that the local supply of available leaders was quite exhausted, but the Music Sub-committee knows of several unable to be at the class Monday night who will be on hand this evening. The opportunity of such training, at the hands of as proficient an instructor as Mr. Foster Krake, is something that Portsmouth music folk have not been slow to take advantage of.

Those interested are asked to pay particular attention to the announcement of the places and hours of meeting tonight:

At 7:00 p. m. sharp:

Volunteer Song Leaders at the Parish House. Volunteer Accompanists at Moose Hall.

At 7:50 p. m.: Community Chorus at the Parish House.

Those in the Song Leaders Class will, of course, remain where they are for chorus practice; and time will be given for the accompanists, who will be given instruction at Moose Hall by Major Roy H. Winton, to get over to the Parish House before the rehearsal begins. The ones who will be present for the first time tonight are asked, if possible, to arrive a bit early, that they may register with the secretary before the classes begin.

Volunteer Song Leaders are each expected to feel their responsibility by seeking out those in their local groups who are good singers and seeing to it that they enter the big chorus. This is just the beginning of wonderful days for Portsmouth in the way of Community Music, and the sooner those with voices find their places in the "Community Chorus" the more they will enjoy it, and the more the community will profit from their action.

Miners Reaffirm Demands By Large Majorities

LONDON, April 20.—Demands for the establishment of a national wage board and a national wage pool have been reaffirmed by large majorities by district committees of miners throughout the country. It is claimed by the Daily Herald, the organ of labor. The newspaper claims that these meetings, which were held preparatory to the conference of the miners' federation of Great Britain here on Friday, stood 24 to 1 in favor of the demands of the union.

A statement was issued by the miners' federation last night, declaring that Prime Minister Lloyd George's address in the house of commons on Monday did not carry the possibility of a settlement any further than it stood late last week. The statement declares Mr. Lloyd George "has not yet grasped the essential features of the national wage pool."

EPSOM SALTS

LIKE LEMONADE

You can now buy real epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, by asking your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts," which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is pure epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

Big Circus Here April 27

Army of Clowns in Rhoda Royal Circus. Big Show Playing at York Park April 27, Noted for Its Fun-Makers.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and you weep alone." It is said that Jupiter laughed for seven days after he was born. If you want to experience a follow-feeling for Jupiter, you should go to a performance of the Rhoda Royal big three-ring circus, hippodrome and menagerie, combined with the old Buffalo Bill Wild West, which will exhibit in York Park and witness the antics of the army of clowns; for if you do see these funny fellows, you will surely laugh for many a day thereafter. Rhoda Royal's clown corps is composed of the most competent producing clowns in the realm of circusdom.

The big show display, proper, is one of remarkable magnitude and merit. The program is calculated to suit every ardent taste and preference, being composed of every conceivable species of circus act. But the whole is diversified, frequently, by the crowd of clowns, who, by their original and spontaneous humor, cause the spectators to emit veritable volcanic eruptions of laughter, which loudly reverberate in the dome of the huge amphitheatre.

Some persons are of the opinion that the clown is no longer an essential or important part of the circus. How true, for, as a matter of fact, much of the success of the circus depends on these fun-makers. The little fellow simply demand them, and everybody knows that the circus must give the small boy and girl whatever they demand. "The clown must be furnished, and the famous Rhoda Royal Circus furnishes them."

How To Beautify Your Complexion

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mother—Concerning your letter of Monday, please call me at 840 Thursday, as I have information for you, concerning some children.

Dear Miss Wise—I have found the one girl in the world for me. What do you think it would cost to furnish three or four rooms and on how much can two people live?

I am earning better than one hundred dollars a month and have a couple of hundred dollars saved in the bank. I wouldn't like to have her work after becoming my wife and would like to make her as comfortable as possible.

Would it be all right for us to marry now, or should we wait until we have more funds to start on?

REX.
The most satisfactory way for you to find out how much it would cost to furnish three rooms would be to look at furniture and price it. You should also take into consideration kitchen utensils and have the girl make a list of what she would need. Everything depends upon the kind of furniture you would consider satisfactory and to your liking.

It is also difficult to set a figure, regarding the amount of money it would take for two people to live. The following is a budget for a newly-married couple with an income of $125:

Savings, $17; food, $35; rent, $30; clothing, $20; operating, $12; advancement, $11.

"Operating" includes the expenses such as heat, light, repairs, etc. Advancement includes amusements, education, etc. In the above list you may see places where you could cut your expenses to less, and other places where it would cost you more than I have suggested.

If you and the girl have been used to living with many luxuries, your income would not be sufficient. Consider the problem seriously before you decide to marry. If you marry with insufficient funds you will not be happy.

Miss Dolly Wise—I have been a reader of your column for some time and am now coming to you for advice.

I have been going with a girl for some time and loved her dearly until a few days ago, when I fell in love with another girl. Now, please tell me what to do for I have begun to realize that this is just a fancy and that I love only my first girl, but am too independent to go to her and tell her.

Your Manners

It Is Correct

When the host or hostess is driving an automobile, to offer the seat next to the driver's to the eldest lady in the party.

For the guest of honor to take the right hand toward seat.

When a married couple have another married couple as their guests in a touring car for the feminine guest to sit with the host, and for the hostess to sit at the left of the male guest in the touring car, or vice versa if the hostess drives.

For a woman who is driving her own car, to keep her seat when she stops to take in friends.

To ask, when invited into an auto, which seat to take.

It Is Not Correct

For the guests on an automobile trip to pay for gas, etc., though they should—perhaps at the end of the trip—offer some return hospitality to the host and hostess.

For a young woman to take a seat in the touring car and allow an older lady to sit in one of the extra seats.

For a woman who has stopped her car to take in a guest to remain in her seat if the guest is a very old lady or an invalid.

When asked to join an automobile party to fail to be ready when called for.

For the men among the guests in an automobile party to fail to offer assistance to the host in case of a mishap, such as a puncture, etc.

Meet me at Nye's Fountain.

Now, Dolly, what can I do in this case for my first girl thinks that I love the girl I am now going with and told a friend of mine that I had forgotten her but she still loved me.

Thanking you in advance, I am "A BLONDE."

"Faint heart never you fair lady," you know. Go to the girl you really (think you) care for and tell her about it. Get down on your knees, if it will do any good and maybe she will come around alright.

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet in the drinking water will save your chicks from all such diseases. Within 48 hours the sick ones will be lively as crickets.

Mrs. Wm. May, Rego, Ind., writes: "I was losing 10 or 15 chicks a day from diarrhea before I received the Avicol. I haven't lost a one since."

BILLY WALKER

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy, on hearing Harry's daughter, turned, swallowed the lump he had in his mouth, while the long strands dropped to the floor, but not all of them, for some stuck fast in his long beard, getting it into a terrible tangle.

Presently, with Harry's help, Billy was tied in the stall adjoining Frisky's, and then the boys went into the house to tell their mother of the great good-luck they had had in finding the horse and goat in the barn. Ten minutes after telling her they never saw two longer-faced boys in their life than they were, for she explained to them that though they had found them in their own barn, yet that did not make them theirs, as they, in all probability, belonged to some of the neighbors, and had gotten loose and run away.

The boys tried to reason with her and tell her she was mistaken, for they knew every horse and pig belonging to any of the neighbors for miles around.

"Even so," she replied, "they are not yours and must belong to some one living a long, long way from here."

"Never mind! We will tell dad! when he comes in to dinner, and ask him if we can't keep them," answered the boys.

They then walked out of the house down to the gate to watch for their father's return. As they waited, one on the tall gate-post, the other swinging on the gate, they saw a poor raw-boned, lame horse making his slow and painful way along the road, pulling a wagon load of tin utensils, while a disagreeable, cross-looking peddler sat on the wagon seat, urging his poor beast along with curses and the whip.

"Oh! You mean, cruel man, to beat that poor, sick, lame horse," called out Bob, when the peddler came within hearing distance. As if thinking him for his sympathy, the old horse gave a loud groan and dropped dead in his tracks.

"Now see what you have done," exclaimed Harry. "You have killed your horse and it serves you right that he died. Probably he was starved to death. You need not trouble to go to our house, for mother would not buy this or anything else from such a cruel man."

"Shut up, or I will knock you off the gate," called out the peddler in an angry voice.

"What is this I hear," asked the boys' father, who had come up unobserved. "You will knock my son off the gate? Well! Take that and see how you like it for a beginning, for I am going to give you the biggest licking you ever had in your life, just to let you see what you made that poor horse of yours suffer for years, and also for trying to steal and pass off for your own, my friend, Mr. Walker."

Auto Club Gives Reasons Why Market Place Should Be Moved

A circular letter is being sent to many citizens by the Portsmouth Automobile Club relative to the city market place again being on Gallia esplanade. Auto Club Directors, Ben H. Lillon, I. H. Goodman and W. A. Pepper called on Councilman Hunsy Monday night and urged him to bring the matter before Council.

The letter is as follows:

Dear Citizen:

Unless some pressure is brought to bear upon our City Council, Portsmouth will again be afflicted with the market place on the Gallia Esplanade. There are some reasons why the esplanade should not be used as a market place.

The Portsmouth Automobile Club, at an expense of nearly $200.00, drew up and had enacted a Traffic Ordinance which, according to law, abolishes the market upon the esplanade and provides that this particular space shall be used as a parking space for automobiles.

The esplanade is the intersection of two of our busiest thoroughfares which are already over-crowded. The esplanade market only enhances this congestion.

The esplanade market is not a market in the true sense of the word, but merely a congesting place for hucksters rather than a legitimate market for farmers. Therefore, it does not serve the purpose as originally intended.

MEN MEN

If you are nervous, dependent, weak, run down, through excess or other cause, we want to send you our book which tells about SEXTONIDE, a restorative remedy that will put you feeling like a new man. It is not a medicine, but a tonic to overcome personal weakness, etc. Should get this free book at once.

CUMBERLAND CHEMICAL COMPANY
446 Berry Block, Nashville, Tenn.

We feel that city property should first, last and always be at the disposal of the city people first, and furthermore a market which merely serves to congest our busiest thoroughfares does not serve the majority of the people to the best advantage, nor is it in keeping with a city of the size and importance of Portsmouth as it is today.

The Directors of the Portsmouth Automobile Club were advised that the only way the market could be abolished from the esplanade was by certain legislation so incorporated in Traffic Ordinance. This was one of our main reasons for drafting a Traffic Ordinance, and should Council rescind this particular part of it our time and money will have been spent in vain and our chief purpose defeated.

The undersigned Directors of the Portsmouth Automobile Club will greatly appreciate your support in this matter and trust you will give it your immediate attention.

Very sincerely,

"Is Simply Wonderful" She States

"Even the neighbors noticed how rapidly Albert regained his health and strength," said Mrs. Sorilla Furce, a highly esteemed resident of 68 South Newberry St., Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, while telling of the benefit her grandson, Albert Hart, aged fourteen, derived from the use of Tanlac last summer.

Several weeks ago Albert had an operation, and after he came home from the hospital it seemed that he just could not gain any strength. He had no appetite, and was constantly complaining of gas and pains in his stomach.

"Well, I hardly knew what to do for the boy, but had heard so much about Tanlac I decided to try it, and the way it has built him up is simply wonderful. His appetite improved almost from the start, and in a little while after he began taking Tanlac he was strong and well again. He rides his bicycle all around town, and has actually taken a long camping trip since taking Tanlac. I wouldn't think of being without Tanlac, for it certainly is the grandest medicine in the world."—adv.

Offers Services To Committee

At a meeting of the Industrial Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon C. E. Armstrong, assistant engineer of the N. & W. with offices in the First National Bank building was present and offered his services to the Committee. He said he would be glad to help in the drawing of plans showing industrial sites in Portsmouth and sites that would be desirable for other industries with railroad and shipping facilities shown. These maps would be of great value as they could be sent to persons desiring such information when they asked for details as to what sites the city could offer for industrial plants. Samuel Horchow is chairman of the Industrial Development Committee.

Council Will Meet Tonight

From indications the regular meeting of Council this Wednesday night will be short as there is little business on the docket and the session promises to be confined principally to routine matters. The new street car ordinance will, of course, come up for its second reading and Mayor W. N. Gableman is expected to have something to say along city finances and the sewer problem.

This is expected to be the last ap- pearance of H. Frank Bennett as a member of the body as he will be required to resign when he becomes deputy sheriff next Monday succeeding Harry M. Dunham, and there is much speculation who will be named to fill the vacancy. When Mr. Bennett resigns it is expected that Howard Runyon will succeed him as chairman of the street committee.

Has Interesting Story To Tell

Tomorrow evening at six o'clock in the basement of the United Brethren church the weekly Chamber of Commerce luncheon will be held with Orla E. Hickey, chairman of the Form Steering Committee presiding.

The speaker of the evening will be "Golden Rule" Nash of Cincinnati who is at present in demand all over the country. Since applying the Golden Rule to his garment factory in the Queen City his success has been so far beyond what was expected that he is being invited everywhere to tell of the wonder plan that increased production 1200 per cent instead of losing him bankruptcy. His story is one that will interest everyone, especially the business men and employers who are especially urged to attend this week's forum meeting.

Special music will be rendered by the First Christian Male Quartet.

Absurd Rumor Promptly Denied

The Board of Directors of the local Chamber of Commerce has authorized the payment of $100 for any information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons circulating the report to the effect that the Chamber of Commerce had interviewed or written Harry C. Weller, superintendent, or any other officials of the N. & W. Railway, requesting that railroad passes be revoked from the local employees of that company. They say the rumor is of malicious origin in every phase and that its absolute absurdity is a challenge to human intelligence.

After an interview with Mr. Weller, the Chamber of Commerce received the following communication from him:

Portsmouth, Ohio, April 19, 1921.
Mr. J. Paul Heinel, Manager,
Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce,
Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

My conversation with you Saturday with reference to the report that the Chamber of Commerce had made request of this railroad to withdraw passes from its employees who apparently were going out of town to do their shopping.

I beg to advise that you have been misinformed. The Chamber or no other body or persons have made any such request to my knowledge and I have so informed many of the employees who have asked me about it.

Yours truly,
Signed: H. C. WELLER,
Superintendent.

IODINE HEALS RUNNING SORES QUICK RELIEF

Old Sores, Abscesses, Itch- ings, Chronic Ulcers, etc., are best treated and most quickly healed by the application of Iodine, says a well-known authority who also states that the wide-spread use of Iodine in many medical corps has thoroughly proved its great value. He warns, however, against the use of common tincture of Iodine, because in this form it irritates and stains the skin. The new form of Iodine—Lanolated Iodine Compound—is the best for such purposes. This comes in the form of an ointment, and is practically tasteless, will not irritate, and is readily absorbed by the tissues. In the Lanolated form, Iodine is easy and pleasant to use, and every disagreeable feature has been removed. It quickly penetrates, soothes, cleanses and heals and is really delightful. Nearly all local druggists, including J. A. Hager, Fisher and Strick, now sell and recommend Lanolated Iodine. Try it today! We believe nothing you have ever used will prove so effective and satisfying.—Adv.

ENOUGH; THANK YOU

THE VILLAGE STORE was taxed to its capacity last Saturday to wait upon the throng of people. The crowds seemed never to diminish — until 9:30 at night — while every helper was rushing and happy. The only trouble was that some folks couldn't wait and had to leave without being served. Railroad men, farm laborers, doctors, foremen, farmers, attorneys, presidents of large corporations, bankers, and their wives, from far and near — a happy contented crowd.

The Village Store is EVERYBODY'S STORE—for the men or women who care — who know — unbiassed by prejudice, unfettered by credit obligations, sentiment or habit, independent and free to buy when they choose to the best advantage.

Prices made last week were merely for the purpose of cleaning up what we considered an overstock in certain departments. The ad. came out Wednesday evening and Thursday our truck driver took out the largest load of merchandise both in quantity and value that he had ever handled, besides the many sales over the counter.

In one day some of these stocks were completely exhausted and Friday we called every wholesale house in the county for new supplies — and bought what we could get and had them ready for Saturday morning. So with these and new things from other sources—though these goods cost us more—we let them go at same low prices as advertised.

And We Will Continue Same Prices —As Last Week— With New Stocks

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 20.—Ons' recent leadership at the regular opening of today's stock market, favorite issues soon advancing from 1 1/2 to 2 points. Bullishness, which was especially heavy last week in connection with unfavorable dividend rumors, rose 1 1/2 points and Utah Copper, Famous Players, Corn Products and several of the rails were among the firm shares. Regardless of more reactionary movements elsewhere, the low priced speculative issues continued to strengthen. Pressure against rails, equipments, sugars and tobacco was resumed. Canadian Pacific fell 1 point to a new low for the current movement and Norfolk & Western, New York Airbrake and American Car lost 1 to 2 points. Crucible Steel, Atlantic Gulf, American Sugar and International Paper also registered similar declines. Columbia Graphophone preferred at a gain of 3/4 points was the only conspicuously strong specialty. Call money opened at 6 1/2 per cent and exchange on London and continental Europe were firm to strong. Pools today resumed their bullish operations in speculative stocks, especially oils, but made little headway because of the reactionary trend manifested by rails and industrials. Sales approximated 400,000 shares. The closing was irregular.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO
CHICAGO, April 20.—Desserts to new low price records for the season continued in the wheat market today. Favorable crop reports had a bearish influence. Absence of any aggressive buying, however, was the main depressing factor. Opening prices, which varied from the same as yesterday's, shifted to the advance, with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/8 to 1 1/4, were followed by a material setback all around and then something of a rally. Further export business gave firmness to the corn market. After opening at 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, the market closed down 1/4 to 1/2, but the rallyed above the closing range in some cases. The close was strong, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 higher, with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/8 to 1 1/4. The close was governed by the action of the market, starting 1/4 off to 3/4 up, with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/2, and after a slight 1/4 to 1/2 gain all around. Lower quotations on hogs tended to bid down provisions. The close was strong, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 higher, with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/8 to 1 1/4.

The Laugh of a Nation

For Its Attraction The Last Three Days This Week Starting Tomorrow Night The Eastland Theatre Is Pleased To Announce The Funniest Five Reel Comedy Ever Made "Seven Years Bad Luck"—Everybody Will Laugh—Associate Feature—Hoot Gibson in "Who Was The Man."

PROGRAM

A—Orchestral Prelude, Eastland Orchestra.
B—"Hobgoblins"—A new Robin comedy.
C—Hoot Gibson in his latest western "Who Was The Man."
D—Max Linder in "Seven Years Bad Luck"—A feature comedy.
Robertson-Cole stepping into the moving picture arena again, scores another bull's eye. This time it is a smashing, screaming comedy entitled "Seven Years Bad Luck" with Max Linder, the famous comedian, in the stellar role. "Seven Years Bad Luck" will open at the Eastland theatre tomorrow for a run of three days. Robertson-Cole advertises, as their policy the making of super-special pictures only and they certainly keep their word. On top of "Kismet" with Otis Skinner, rated as the greatest dramatic creation in screen history, comes this new picture, the funniest film, bar none, ever seen on the silver sheet. Oh the woe that a broken mirror brings into the usually quiet of Max Linder's life. He has always known that the easiest way to blight one's happiness is to hurt a child of a brick or any movable object, through a looking-glass. But this is the very thing he does at the opening of "Seven Years Bad Luck" and it takes five reels of fun and laughter to extirpate him from his predicament. During this time the movie fan is treated to a series of the most humorous episodes ever flashed on the screen. The story of "Seven Years Bad Luck" was written and directed by Max Linder. While there isn't a single hurried into the feature of an individual in the cast, there is plenty of action. He has introduced everything from a railroad train to a zoo and manages to get a million laughs out of every situation.

William S. HART

in
"The Cradle of Courage"

At The Lyric Theatre For Three Days, Starting Tomorrow

In "The Cradle of Courage," which comes to the Lyric theatre tomorrow, William S. Hart, the famous Paramount star, appears as a policeman—one of the most striking roles he has had in many months. It is a complete departure from his recent western dramas, but none the less effective, for it gives him a characterization that places heavy demands upon his versatility and dramatic power. As a result he is certain to elicit new praise from the thousands who have admired his splendid portrayals for seasons past and who will welcome his new productions with open arms. This is the third of his personal productions for Paramount and is regarded as fully up to the high standard set by "The Toll Gate" and "Sand" the two preceding pictures. The "Barbaric Coast" in San Francisco, the haunt of the submergent, the underworld habitues, crooks and others, is the scene of the story which shows the transformation of a man in the vortex of great events, how he wins honor and love after youth spent in the lowest circles of society. It was adapted by Lambert Hillyer and also directed by him. Joe August, A. S. C., was the photographer. Ann Little is leading woman and Thomas Santschi has the heavy role. Gertrude Claire also has a strong character role. Also a Sunshine comedy, "The Slicker."

LINCOLN TONIGHT

GEORGE BEBAN

in
"ONE MAN IN A MILLION"

A dramatic page from life—with love, laughter and romance.
distributed by ROBERTSON-COLE

The Exhibit Theatre Is Pleased to Announce for a Two Day Stirling Beginning Tonight, George Beban, the Artist with a Soul in His Own Production "One Man in a Million," a Human Picture of People You Know—One Hundred Million People Will Like It—We Guarantee It.

"One Man in a Million," the new Robertson-Cole super-special release, which has been heralded throughout the country as the greatest drama ever filmed, will be seen at the Exhibit theatre beginning tonight for a run of two days. George Beban, whose reputation as a wonderful character actor is international, appears in the leading role. It took one solid year to make this wonderful film. Mr. Beban personally doing the work of production and direction after he had written the story. The result obtained justified the time spent.

Several years ago while appearing in his extraordinary stage and screen success "The Sign of the Cross," Mr. Beban conceived the idea of "One Man in a Million."

In the story of the picture we find Mr. Beban in the character of a kind hearted and humble Italian whose mission on earth seems to be the spreading of happiness. Throughout the film the kindly theme is carried in a clever and convincing manner. It was Mr. Beban's idea to spread the code of happiness without making his picture a pretentious and with the aid of comedy situations infused with his highly dramatic moments, he has succeeded admirably.

Humans alone are not entirely responsible for the success of "One Man in a Million." The author fairly realized the value of animals as a medium of conveying ideas, has enlisted the aid of a very funny parrot and a scene or more of the most frolicsome dogs you have ever seen. You'll have to see the picture to realize just how wise these "dumb" actors are.

This picture has been one of the picture sensations of the past season and has been under contract for several months for its showing in the New Columbia; positively Manager Tynes has had more inquiries and requests for this picture than for any other picture that has been presented to the public.

Remember there will be no advance in prices for this engagement and the shows will start promptly at 1:00; 3:00, 5:00, 7:00 and 9:00. If at all possible you had better come in the afternoon and avoid the big crush for the evening shows.

PROF. EINSTEIN KNOWS HIS BIZ

PROF. ALBERT EINSTEIN evidently thinks he's going to have a lot of fun with us. In his very first interview he demonstrated that he knows a thing or two, in addition to the theory of relativity.

He expressed surprise, with a mental wink and a chuckle up his sleeve, that there existed such widespread interest in his deductions. He knows. The reason the public is so interested, is because they don't understand it. If they understood it they would forget all about it in 24 hours. But because they don't it remains an elusive problem which, vaguely, they suppose, has some determining effect on that ground problem of humanity, the end of the world.

This engrossing subject, because it is so remote, can always raise a discussion, since a matter of a hundred thousand years leaves liberal latitude for amateur philosophers.

If Professor Einstein were to explain in words of one syllable—supposing words of one syllable could handle the question—exactly what he has deduced on time and space, an indignant public would walk out on him and leave him flat on his deductive back. Its mystery is its kernel of appreciation. Quite obviously Professor Einstein knows this, and has no intention of spoiling the best little mystifier the world has had since the apple hit Newton.

IS MRS. EDDY ALIVE?

IS Mrs. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science faith, alive? That, in effect, is the question put up to the courts of Massachusetts.

If Mrs. Eddy, who is admitted "physically dead," can continue to be an officer in the business management of the Christian Science church, there is no reason why the late Andrew Carnegie or the late Russell Sage should not be considered as active agents in the conduct of the vast business enterprises with which they were associated in life. If this peculiar contention is allowed to stand in court the dead hands of countless persons who have passed beyond will continue their lifeless and chilling holds upon many business and religious enterprises, and a man who wants to make sure that his estate is parcelled out according to his will, would have to specify beforehand that when he passes out he is to be considered both physically and legally dead.

It is scarcely believable that the lawyer who raised the point in court means to try to have it sustained.

A dispatch from Washington says "it is felt" there in some circles that if an historic declaration as to the attitude of the American government toward world affairs is to be made it would better come from the president than from some senator. We had suspected for some time that that would be the attitude. Still it would be better for the Republican brethren to do something before falling out over who shall get the credit.

Now it is plain why the Democrats lost the election last fall, when a bird like "Cousin Everett" could go out and rope in "prominent citizens of Chicago" for the G. O. P. Instead of trying to explain Article X to such they should have been gone after with peanuts and a rattle.

Judging by the lack of headway toward a peace program for the administration, the "best minds" consulted by Mr. Harding last fall and winter must have talked principally on other subjects.

Shoes remain high because hides cost so much. An Iowa farmer sold 22 calf hides and had $1.20 left after buying a pair.

Some men pay their lodge dues rather than be suspended, but they do not worry about keeping in good standing in the church.

It is a queer state of mind that will adjudge a bootlegger a violator of law and his customer a good citizen.

Those advocates of 13 months in a year are dazed to go around and talk to the man who has just had his rent raised.

Although the notes of Secretary Hughes to the allies were pretty firm, his partisans will scarcely contend that they set Vesuvius in eruption.

Perhaps Charlie Chaplin, in deciding on another matrimonial venture, felt that he needed publicity.

Senator Knox says he is for the Colombian resolution now because apology for robbing her of Panama is taken out, but the $25,000,000 balm for the act still remains. Which does the honorable senator suppose Colombia would rather have the apology of the twenty-five millions?

Many persons think that optimism is something that may be absorbed, when it is something that must be created.

It would help to remove a lot of pessimism if one could raise vegetables like those shown in the seed catalogs.

"Free tolls" are sought for American shipping through the Panama canal. "Free tolls" is on a par with black whiteness.

A lot of farmers are wondering how much manufacturers will add to the price of shoes when they get the hides for nothing.

A Permanent Exposition

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—A plan for each state, and possibly each foreign country, to be represented in Washington by a permanent exposition building is being considered. The states spend large sums regularly to erect temporary buildings at the big expositions that last only a few months. Now they are to be invited to consider establishing permanent exhibit buildings.

The National Capital has been recommended as the logical place for them for two reasons. First, because state rivalry is so keen that no other city would meet with general approval, whereas Washington belongs to the country as a whole. The other reason is that a permanent exposition at Washington has been urged for over 20 years and congress is getting used to the idea that there is such an exposition it will be at Washington. Back in 1897, there was a bill providing 1,000 acres of land in Rock Creek Park in Washington, and since then there have regularly been bills by which congress was to make it possible for the states to be represented by buildings at the National Capital.

Something of the sort would undoubtedly be of great value in advertising the states. Most foreign visitors who make flying trips to America see only a limited part of the country and leave without ever gaining any real conception of its extent. Many Americans also have no idea of the distinctive characteristics of each state beyond a few facts gleaned from pages of a school geography.

A collection of exhibits cannot, of course, take the place of actually traveling through the country and visiting factories, mines, and farms. But a tour of 48 state buildings would certainly give any one a fair understanding of the complex material that goes to make up the United States.

At present, the visitor to the Capital goes away with an impression of the importance and dignity of the United States as a government, but there is nothing in Washington to make him feel the existence of the states for which the government functions.

States Poorly Represented

He is reminded of some ancient history of the states in Statuary Hall at the Capitol, where a motley crowd of statues is supposed to include the state heroes. The basic idea of Statuary Hall was sound, and the earliest entries were names still familiar to every one, but since then, decades selected are in a great many cases minor heroes, unrecognized even by the tourist from his own state. In a country as well supplied as this one with really famous characters, Statuary Hall could be one of the inspiring spots in the Capital City. It could round the visitor of the biggest achievements of the states, but it does not.

In the Washington monument, blocks of marble and granite sent and inscribed by different states give an excellent idea of the many varieties of one product that the different sections of the country yield. Most visitors, however, have little opportunity to regard this interesting collection of stones. From the monument elevator it is possible to catch a fleeting glance of a few state blocks if you happen to be near the sides of the eagle. To study the walls more carefully it is necessary to walk either up or down the 555 foot shaft, and this is an experience that the average tourist is willing to forego.

There are a few other vague reminders of the states in Statuary and painting around the Capitol and other public buildings and congress is, supposedly, a collection of sample products of the states. Throughout the city, however, there is nothing to give any impression of each state as it actually is—its industries, art, science, its agriculture, products, and commerce. An exhibit covering these points would be visited and read not only by tourists, but by students, business men and government and foreign representatives.

The project is being shaped up now for congressional consideration because the time is regarded as favorable. The building industry is beginning to recover somewhat, and in the time taken to have the plan endorsed by congress it is expected that a public building program could be mapped out at reasonable expense.

When Congressman Davis of Minnesota introduced a bill for a permanent international exposition in 1919, he was of the opinion that it would not be a financial burden upon the federal treasury or on any one state. The idea has always been that congress was to lay and donate the land and each state would then be at liberty to use its share for a building and grounds. The cost of the land would not be great. From 1919 to 1920, there would be no need, according to various estimates and plans.

There are several sites suggested. One in Rock Creek Park, and another, a tract of 500 acres across the Potomac river in Virginia. This latter site is regarded as especially good. It is a part of the land which was originally in the district and was later ceded back to Virginia. It is already owned by the government and used by the Department of Agriculture as an experiment station. We have been told that the station needs a larger piece of land and would be willing to move. The Virginia land is near Arlington, the National Cemetery, and commands an attractive view of Washington. It is also desirable in that it is easily reached by street car.

The Rock Creek site is not so accessible. Still another site, near the Capitol, would involve a great deal of preliminary work, as whole blocks of old houses would have to be torn down.

The government appropriation would be needed only to pay for the land. If privately owned property were selected, and to pay for a small office force to do the clerical work necessary in developing the plan. Representative Davis figured that a board of trustees composed of the vice president, ex-officio, the speaker of the house of representatives, ex-officio, and four senators and four representatives would manage the project. He proposed that they give their services without additional pay. The only appropriation in his bill was a sum of $10,000 a year for clerical hire.

The cost of the buildings would be decided by each state, and no state would be urged or compelled to build at all if it preferred not to. Each state is to be left to itself to plan its own building, according to the present scheme, but the board of trustees and the Fine Arts Commission would probably have upon plans to make sure they were practical for the location and that they would fit harmoniously with the others. This would not mean that a single style of architecture would be prescribed for the group of buildings. Each state would be expected to use its own designs, and especially its own materials of stone and wood.

The interior would contain an exhibit with possibly a library of reference books and an assembly hall for meetings. The buildings could be museums of the states only, with caretakers in charge, or they could be made still more useful to business and to the government by having a representative from the state, thoroughly familiar with conditions there to furnish information about exhibits and state business and industry.

Plans for the exposition have always included other countries. That is, it is supposed that an invitation and an offer of land would be extended to each nation, as to each state. There is no doubt that many countries would be glad to accept a chance to advertise in the United States.

Imitative Monkeys

It is interesting to learn from experiments on monkeys at a zoo that they, unlike dogs, cats, chickens and rats, but like human beings, do seem to be able to profit by observing one another's behavior. In a number of cases one monkey would pull out a plug or tag at a string after he had seen a companion get food in this way, but not before.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 20.—This is the time of year the New Yorker begins plans to blow in his accumulated surplus in a few mad weeks. Vacation means more to New York workers than workers in most other cities. All year they live in skyscrapers, ride underground to work and see nothing of nature's grandeur.

Consequently they are intrigued by the alluring advertisements of "sparkling lakes, roundabout coasts, flower-carpeted meadows and sun-bathed forests." Now that European travel has opened up the young clerks and stenographers will make round trips on trans-Atlantic boats. They can do this in their allotted two weeks and have a few days on the other side.

But, mainly the vacation periods will be spent in Maine, the Catskills and the neighboring seaside resorts. The next thing is to come back with a heavy coat of tan and thereby completely awe the fellow pale-faces. And also speak of "how delightful Newport is this season."

Going on a vacation is something to brag about here. People do not know their neighbors but they like to impress them and many New Yorkers return from their two weeks stay at Sea Gate below Coney Island with their luggage plastered with foreign labels—Lombard on Delancy street at 25 cents a dozen.

Homes are now being boarded up for the annual pilgrimage to the summer estates. When a moving van backs up neighboring windows are lined with "peepers" who have a chance to see what kind of furniture the neighbor has. Talk about small town curiosity and back fence gossip! This building metropolis has it in any cross "bushes" hamlet in America.

Albert Payson Terhune was adopted one fine day on a roving expedition by a band of Bedouins. One night he was playing cards with a group of them on the Sahara sands. There was a battle to death with dirks in the moonlight right outside the tent opening.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

The Sibley Service, Gallipoli, Ohio
By W. G. SIBLEY

France is to have a rival of Monte Carlo at Boulogne if plans of English capitalists go through. Covetous of the enormous gambling profits of the famous Casino there are planning a magnificent house of Chance amid the pine trees near Boulogne.

France seeks to interest President Harding in a modified League of Nations. Impossible, we imagine—at least until such time as a solemn referendum of the people recommends it.

A Texas editor laments the fact, so to speak, of the occasions when he felt like hurrying. They don't come as often as they "mister" do they?

Old Lottery Days

The old Louisiana Lottery, banished from the country many years ago, is now operating as the New Louisiana Lottery at Puerto Cortez, Honduras, with monthly drawings. It has 9,000 prizes, ranging from $20 to $100,000, and the New York Herald finds that much of its patronage comes from the vicinity of Gotham.

In the old lottery days the Louisiana concern took as much tribute from followers of the goddess Chance as any publicly monopoly in the earlier days of great business corporations. It had its agents all over the country, and few indeed there were who did not take a chance at it now and then. It had a most alluring schedule of prizes, and forty years ago when we were a more or less useful clerk in a country store, drawing a salary of $300 a year and on duty from 6 in the morning until 9 at night, we "invested" in a ticket that might possibly have drawn $75,000.

There followed the roughest month we ever spent, bawling out our hungry moon. When we arose in the morning a possible $75,000 lay pulled on his blue gingham shirt and jeans trousers, and trod the clouds of hope to the store. All day long the thrill of fortune was ours, and at night, when we composed our weary limbs for rest, streaks of warm anticipation or wealth chased each other up and down our spinal column.

Those were days of big thinking, of planning just what use we would make of the money if it came our way. We cannot remember all the joys of our anticipation, but the vision of a better-made clothing, gorgeous custom-made shirts, morning top hats, a horse and buggy, the finest home in the village and a certain girl to share it, blazed in memory. Never before or since did we have such long

Eccentricity of Genius

Not a few famous men have been noted for their eccentricity of dress. Buffon, the naturalist, was particular, almost to ridiculousness, in his dress. It was his delight to dress in showy, costly material and to wear lace and jewels. He curled his hair with special attention and when at work wore it always in curlpapers.

JUDGE KENESAW MOUNTAIN LANDIS

Is the federal bench about to lose its most picturesque figure? According to recent reports, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Chicago will soon relinquish his judicial post in order to devote all his time to the job of supreme arbiter of baseball.

JUDGE LANDIS

Judge Landis first saw the light at Millville, Ohio, on November 20, 1866. He attended public school at Logansport, Ind., where his family moved when he was a boy. In 1891 he earned his L. B. at Union College of Law, Chicago, and practiced law until 1905 with the exception of two years, when he served as private secretary to Secretary of State Graham. On July 25, 1905, he married Miss Winifred Reed of Ottawa, Ill., and to them was born two children, Major Reed Landis and Mrs. Suzanne Phillips.

Judge Landis was appointed United States district judge for the northern district of Illinois on March 28, 1905, and two years later, in 1907, because of his reputation for his researches in oceanography and the origin of human life. Of course, the ship news reporters care little about his scientific researches. They will want to know what the chances are for the Double O to win twice in succession—or something like that. And the Prince is certain to be shocked. He is never asked those questions in Europe. In fact the gambling at the Casino at Monte Carlo is never recognized officially by the Prince—and yet the revenues from it permits him to pursue his studies in oceanography—whatever that is. It takes a ship reporter, in quest of a new slant, to humble dignity. Princes, dukes and ham actors look all alike to him.

During the World war he presided at the famous J. W. W. trial in which William J. (Big Boy) Hayward, secretary-treasurer of the I. W. W., and 103 of its members were defendants. He sentenced ninety-three, including Hayward, to prison. Some time after the J. W. W. trial a bomb was exploded in the afternoon at the north entrance of the federal building. Several persons were killed.

For a ruling made in January, 1919, Judge Landis was attacked on the senate floor by Senator Thomas of Colorado. The judge was defended by Senator Lewis of Illinois, who explained the ruling, made when several attorneys appeared in court wearing wrist watches, was not meant seriously.

After he had asked them whether they had served in the army or navy and the lawyers admitted they had been in neither, Landis directed the clerk of the court to "enter an order requiring all 'wrist-watched' attorneys to notify you what branch of service they represent." The incident was mentioned in the United States senate where a senator was reported to have called the order as a "clumsy joke" and declared Landis ought to be impeached.

Judge Landis's comment on the incident was: "Don't let the devil what some senators will do to pass away the time."

Judge Landis was appointed supreme arbiter of baseball at a salary of $22,500 per year last fall. His salary as judge is $7,500. Opposition to his holding both jobs has been voiced in congress.

Twenty-five years ago the Bowery was a show place. Everybody visited it, particularly that portion from Seventh Street to Chatham Square. Now it is unknown to the younger generation, and thereby hangs a tale which illustrates the tremendous power of the Press as a medium for advertisement or for suppression. When the Bowery (lower Third Avenue) was in its heyday a song about its attractions and hazards became immensely popular all over the country. It referred to a little time, the adventures of a man who was picked by "bowery boys" and girls—and each vied to close with the fervent ejaculation: "I'll never go there any more."

Business on the Bowery declined rapidly. The country grew weary of a street where "they said such things" as the song told about. The matter grew so serious that a policy of silence was adopted by the New York papers. They ceased to mention the Bowery. It became plain Third Avenue, and in a few years all memory almost of a name as well known as the Battery or Central Park in New York, faded from the minds of the public.

It is but one incident in many illustrating the more or less menacing fact that the newspapers not only provide conversation for the mass of the people, but also control their thoughts to an amazing extent. Its power in this direction is all but almighty.

Q. How was the smoke made that was used for smoke screens by our vessels during the war?—G. T. K.

A. The Chemical Warfare Service says that the most promising mixture evolved for this purpose was known as "B. M." as the original formula for it came from the Bureau of Mines, the Service perfecting it. The following formula is representative and was varied according to the

Pedigree

Oh, tell me not that you have got mixed cattle and rich land. A bank account of large amount. Can never win my hand. The man I've met must be pure-bred. Chase A, not B or C. Oh, Sir, take heed and let me read I beg your pedigree!

No modern miss accepts a kiss "That is not certified." Dan Cupid's dart to pierce my heart Must first be classified. No diamond rings or such-like things Can seal your love for me. Without you clump on the slump Of fanciful pedigree.

Then take this cue, if you would woo A maid to marry her. Though saint or rogue, it is the rogue That you should seek or shun! So when you swoon beneath the moon Look up your family tree. And breathe your vows upon the boughs That bear your pedigree. —Carletons Magazine.

The Slow Horse

"Dat boss was so slow," growled Basins over the remains of the unfortunate equine that had just had a race over a railroad crossing. "He was so slow der ain't no loss in der wait to der above."

"Come de Judgment," Day and St. Peter'll say, "All yo' dead men come forth. Den dey'll all come forth. Den dey'll say: 'All yo' dead ladies come forth.' Finly dey'll say: 'All yo' dead horses come forth.'"

"And Joe'll spit dat boss hell come fifth!"—American Legion Week.

Complaint Would Increase Caginess

"How do the Joneses seem to like their little two-room kitchenette apartment?" "Oh, they have no room for complaint!"—Judge.

He Knew How to Sell

In a fair-sized city of Ohio was a store that catered to the selling of women's wearing apparel. It is supposed that the owner, a man named Mr. Blank, decided to run a special sale, advertising in the papers that the articles would be sold regardless of cost.

In due time the sale was started, the people thronged the store and Mr. Blank was very much pleased with the results.

That one day, while Mr. Blank was talking to a customer one of his salesladies approached him and said: "Mr. Blank, these shirt waists cost $2.00 last week. Now you have them marked $1.98."

Mr. Blank quickly replied, "Well, I sure this sale advertised that the goods will be sold regardless of cost." —Parbes.
